

- We are currently accepting used board games and role-playing books (RPGs). Miniatures, novels, toys, dice, and collectibles are not accepted.
- A member is limited to five items for sale at any one time in our Used Games section.
- Within reason, a member may sell a set of items as a single item (for example, a game with expansions or a set of RPG books). These items will be shrink wrapped together and presented and sold as a single item.
- The member must inventory the game components and complete a Used Game Submission Form for each item sold. The member is expected to be honest about the condition of the item and the form is available to view by potential buyers.
 - Blue Bridge Games reserves the right to revoke a member's benefit of selling used games on consignment for any reason.
- The member determines the single asking price for the item. The price is non-negotiable and Blue Bridge Games will only sell that item at that price.
- Blue Bridge Games staff will prepare the item for sale by shrink wrapping the game with a summary of the Submission Form including price.
- An item will be given at least 60 days to sell. After that period of time, Blue Bridge Games will ask the member to take the item back. If the member does not take the item back within 60 additional days, it then becomes the property of Blue Bridge Games. An unsold item may not be submitted for sale again for at least 60 days.
- Upon sale of an item, the buyer has 3 days to return the item if they disagree with the Used Game Submission Form condition report. This is the only condition under which Blue Bridge Games will accept a used game return.
- Three days after the sale, the member will receive store credit for 100% of the sale price of the item.
- Blue Bridge Games reserves the right to refuse any item based on demand, condition, appropriateness, or any other reason.
- A used game is sold on consignment and remains the property of the member until such a time as it sells or it has been left at Blue Bridge Games for longer than 60 days after the member was notified to take it home. Blue Bridge Games does not purchase used games for resale.
- Blue Bridge Games will assume responsibility for the care of the item while in possession.